

Your EAP offers confidential counseling, expert legal and financial guidance, work-life assistance, and much more to help you be your best, at work and at home.

The EAP can help with just about anything, such as:

- When you're struggling to find child or elder care
- When you need tax guidance
- When you're feeling down or stuck in a bad situation
- When you're looking to expand your social network
- When you'd like to speak with a local legal expert about your mortgage or rental agreement
- When you need an attorney for family issues or debt obligations
- When you're having trouble fitting in at a new workplace
- When you're trying to integrate new information from a training session into your daily life
- When you're moving to a new location and would like to learn more about the local laws and customs

Remember, you can contact the EAP 24/7 for assistance and resources for any issues you face.
